CAL STATE FULLERTON TO HOST RALLY AGAINST HATE
Students plan a day long rally to combat hate crimes

Fullerton, CA – The Association for InterCultural Awareness (AICA), part of the Associated Students, Inc. at Cal State Fullerton, will host its annual “Rally Against Hate,” on Wednesday, Nov. 9, 2011 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Quad. The campus community is invited to participate in this event in an effort to raise awareness and celebrate the multicultural student population.

AICA, a council of student organizations representing religious, ethnic and sexual minority communities on the campus of Cal State Fullerton, will showcase personal stories of hate crimes, spoken word performances, and accessible information about resources available to the campus community during the rally. Event participants will have the opportunity to write personal prejudices and discriminatory remarks they’ve experienced on the “Wall of Hate,” and personal commitments to combat hate crimes and support social change on the “Wall of Hope.”
