TSU Operations
Student Engagement Report
FY 2011-2012

Mission Statement

The purpose of Late Night Study is to provide a safe environment for CSUF students to study after other campus facilities have closed.

Program Overview

Late Night Study keeps areas of the main level (Food Court, Alumni Lounge, Quiet Lounge and Courtyard) open after the majority of the facility closes at 10:00 p.m. Late Night Study begins the fourth week of each semester and takes place Sunday through Thursday nights from 10:00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m. (five nights per week for eleven weeks). In order to ensure a safe environment, student ID cards are checked upon entrance. Only currently registered CSUF students and students from nearby colleges (Hope International University, Western State University College of Law, Southern California College of Optometry, and Fullerton College) may take advantage of the program.

Engagement Results

Late Night Study	Fall 2011	Spring 2012
Average hourly attendance	39	35
Highest hourly attendance	229	129

Results Summary

- ASI Productions continued the promotional program put in place in the 2010-2011 school year, offering refreshments and study help during Midterms.
- Efforts to increase safety and access were effective: An additional entrance was opened on the North side of the building, an additional student staff member was added, and an additional ID card reader was purchased in order to check IDs at the added entrance.

Future Goals

- Continue promotional activities and safety assessment.
