FINAL EXAMS MEAN MANY LATE NIGHTS AHEAD FOR CSUF STUDENTS

Titan Student Union will be open 24 hours for Study Space, Late Night Services, and Stress Relief

FULLERTON, Calif. - Associated Students, Inc. (ASI), will sponsor its biannual All Night Study program December 9–20. During this end-of-semester event, the Titan Student Union (TSU) will keep its doors open 24 hours a day (approximately 275 hours straight) to help students prepare for final exams by providing extended access to individual and group study spaces, free Wi-Fi, public computer stations, wireless printing, tutoring, and numerous events designed to provide short study breaks and stress relief.

Valerie Schrepferman, ASI Productions Administrative Director notes, “All Night Study allows students to come together in efforts to stay focused, keep motivated, and successfully navigate final exams.” Schrepferman continues, “It creates an opportunity for students to collaborate with classmates, relieve stress, and stay engaged on campus during the final two weeks of the semester.”

Study Break events planned during All Night Study include giveaways on December 9 at 10:00pm in the TSU Garden Café and December 16 at midnight in the TSU Pavilion. Back/neck massages will also be available December 16–18 from 11:00pm to 2:00am in the TSU Fireside Lounge.

Academic services include tutoring, sponsored by the University Learning Center, December 9-11 from 7:00pm to 10:00pm at the Titan Pride Center. The Mainframe computer lounge will also be open 24 hours starting December 9 at 7:00am through December 20 at 4:00pm. Scanning services, as well as black/white and color printing, is all available at the Mainframe.
The Student Recreation Center (SRC) will keep its normal operating hours where students can work-out, shower, and use the facilities. The SRC will also provide neck/shoulder massages in the SRC lobby on December 16 and 18 and Dodgeball on December 17. Activities begin at 9:00pm each night.
