 - Information on the CSUF Pathway survey
 - VPSA Goals for next year

Chammas opened the floor to questions.

Samaniego said a lot of scholars within MSI Scholars are afraid that the scholarship or center will disappear. Samaniego wants to know where the division is at and gain confirmation that the programs and scholarships will not go away.

Dr. Oseguera said that the program is not going away and shared they want to expand the scholarship program to transfer students not just first-time students.

Samaniego congratulated Oseguera on her recognition as Administrator of The Year at CSUF.

Dawson asked if Oseguera oversees International Students.

Oseguera said Provost oversees International Students.

Samaniego asked for Oseguera to send information to Collins to distribute to the Board regarding the Black Titan Excellence Group. Samaniego feels that having this information will help the Board better support our Black Students.

Oseguera seconded Samaniego's sentiment and shared additional information on her thoughts and ideas on ways to support the Black Titan Community.

b. 2:00pm: Justine Budisantoso, Alumni Association

Budisantoso shared information with the Board on the Alumni Association including:

- Information on benefits to students and Alumni by being a part of the Alumni Association
- One of the main goals is to get students to join the network and come back when they're Alumni to be involved with future Titans.
- Shared information on the Titan Pro Network
- Informed members of her office location and invited members to come to visit

Chammas opened the floor to questions.

Samaniego asked about the Night of the Pachyderm

Budisantoso shared it is their baseball tailgate where a lot of CSUF Alumni come to network and hang out

Mitchell asked about the Elephant Seltzer Company.

Budisantoso provided information and shared they have an elephant on all of their drinks.

Dawson shared she was unaware of the Titan Pro Network and asked how the Alumni Association reaches out to the CSUF Community on campus and abroad to inform them of the programs they have available.

Budisantoso shared various ways that they reach out to the Titan Community including, visits to ICCs, posting information via various campus mediums, and shared other methods they take to engage students.

Chammas shared she met with Budisantoso who provided her with a lot of very beneficial information.

Budisantoso shared information on the law panel that is coming soon.

Samaniego asked how ASI can engage with the Alumni Association.

Budisantoso shared they have events planned a year in advance and ASI used to fund some of these events. Budisantoso shared that if there are things done annually by ASI or the Board maybe they can explore an option to collaborate.

@csufstudents | fullerton.edu/students

Dear ASI Board of Representatives,

The Inter-Fraternity Council at Cal State Fullerton has a couple of goals for this semester.

First, we were working with the Panhellenic Council to create Greek Week. Greek Week was last week and it was perceived as successful by the Greek community. This was our first Greek Week since Spring 2019 so no one has experienced a Greek Week besides the seniors. We had to cut some things out due to time restraints and lack of planning by the Greek community. Given this, our councils are working together to help improve Greek Week for the next IFC and PHC council.

Secondly, my executive team and I are working on planning the IFC cup and another big event in the fall for lip sync with PHC and IFC. We already have the layout planned for IFC cup, but we are still in the works with planning the lip sync battle with PHC and IFC.

Third, we are already talking about officer transitions for next semester. In the past, IFC has struggled to fill out our entire executive team and we are making a concentrated effort to change this. My entire council is filled and I want to continue this trend. We are reaching out to each chapter and soliciting interest from members. So come election time every position on the next council will be filled.

As for funding, we have already spent money for Greek Week materials. We plan on spending money for the events we have planned in the fall too. I understand the last council didn't spend any money which helped us plan our events for this year. We will not be attending any conferences in the fall online and in person too.

Thank you for your time,

Travis Romero
IFC President

NATURAL SCIENCE & MATHEMATICS INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Board of Directors Presentation

OUR GOALS

Short Term Goals:

- Hold at least 1 virtual and 1 in-person ICC event
- Increase our social media presence and followers
 - Increase virtual participation

Long Term Goals:

- Create a stronger platform for virtual events
- Provide students with added opportunities for funding
- Continue to build a stronger community and connections with other programs

BUDGET UPDATE

April 3rd 2022

A-SIDE BUDGET

Line 8074:

- Available: $6,033 (62.19%) - Estimated spending for NSM Week in Spring.

Line 8050:

- Available: $250 (100%) - Supplies

Line 8051:

- Available: $250 (100%) - Print and Advertising

B-SIDE BUDGET

Line 8074:

 - Clubs will be using this for registration fees for Virtual Conferences. For example, SACNAS National Diversity In STEM Digital Conference.

UPCOMING AND PAST EVENTS

Spring 2022

PAST NSM-ICC EVENTS

- Fall Festivities (November 4, 2021): This is an annual event where the College of NSM hosts clubs for all students. This year's theme is Harvest Festival. We will have free pre-packaged food, a photobooth, and activities by our clubs tabling.
- NSM Giving (November 4 - 19, 2021): Each club will participate in a friendly competition to see who can collect the most canned goods. All goods will be donated to the ASI Food Pantry. The club that collects the most food will be rewarded with a prize for their efforts.

PAST NSM-ICC EVENTS

- Fall Festivities (November 4, 2021): How it went: It was a great day for all of the NSM Clubs. There was a lot of people interacting with the NSM Clubs. There was music, food, and a cornhole game where students had a chance to win a NSM Water Bottle.
- NSM Giving (November 4 - 19, 2021): How it went: Lots of people joined the winning team of Beta Psi Omega for this bowling event! We had pizza and many people engaged in a couple rounds of bowling and people cheered as strikes were made.

UPCOMING NSM-ICC EVENTS

- NSM Week (April 18 – April 22, 2022): This is an annual event where the College of NSM hosts a week of activities planned by the clubs of NSM for all students. This year's theme is Space! We plan to have a festival day (where students can chat with members of the NSM Clubs), a workshop day (where invited speakers discuss “diversity in STEM”), a symposium day (where students present their research), and a day of fun (where students will learn how to make bath bombs).

CHIEF GOVERNMENTAL OFFICER: Dixie Samaniego

Summary:

Hi everyone! Happy Tuesday. I hope everyone's day is going well and that everyone spent Spring break resting after a hectic first half of the semester.

The past two weeks I have not had many meetings as I was prioritizing midterms and resting over Spring break. Now that we are back I want to reiterate that I encourage you all to reach out to the Executive officers to continue to be involved with the advocacy work we conduct on behalf of the organization. I also encourage you all to send your ideas about issues and topics you are interested so that we can continue to involve you all in really important work.

Lobby Corps will be collaborating with the ASI Food Pantry on a pop up event April 13th, 2022 11am-1pm where students will be able to grab groceries and share their stories. This is a part of the commission's legislative advocacy and will be sending the stories students share to legislators in order to show that the support the state gives to CSUF students is impacting us and is needed. Please keep an eye out for marketing, I will drop it into our groupchat and will ask for you all to help the commission and pantry by sharing it with your ICCs and different clubs that you may be involved in.

As always, if you have any questions, please email me at asicgo@fullerton.edu
