

Curriculum Share

DRDP Measure: Emergent Writing
Age Group: Preschool age

Journal Writing

Introducing journal writing to preschoolers, helps children gather their thoughts and ideas and communicate it on paper. Free writing and drawing is just as important. So continue allowing your child time to draw and write freely. Make writing time a relaxing and fun experience. For now stay away from pencils and especially pencils with an eraser. Use markers, gel pens or crayons.

My Writing Journal

Name:

Click on the image above for the printable.