

Curriculum Share

DRDP Measure:

Inquiry through Observation and Investigation

Age Group:

Toddler

Color Scavenger Hunt

Scavenger hunts are a great way for children to explore non-living and living things in their environment. Print these cards and have your child search for objects around the house. You could even take these cards outside or to a park to collect natural items, or play 'I Spy.'

Add to your scavenger hunt by adding adjectives to the color (find something big that is red, find something pointy that is green). Adding descriptive words helps to build language!

Click the image to print!