

Parent Resource

Helping Children With Autism Get the Most Out of Digital Media

“As a developmental behavioral pediatrician, I evaluate children for autism, follow their progress over time and help coach their parents on supporting everyday challenges and finding the best therapies. In our clinic visits, media comes up — a lot! Media is a common concern for all parents. Here are some ideas about media that can specifically support children with ASD.”

-Author: Dr. Radesky

Click source link for full article.

Source: PBS for Parents