Club sports prolong playing career

Student athletes have non-NCAA options to play after high school.

ADAM MALDONADO

Staffers

For many athletes, their playing careers conclude once they finish high school. The thrill of competition that once consumed their daily lives quickly fades as they are thrown into daily retirement from their sport. However, some competitors are relentless in remaining active rather than hanging it up for good, and they are able to fuel their fire with club sports offered on campus.

Club sports provide an opportunity for students to continue their athletic careers at the collegiate level, while also having the flexibility to live the typical multifaceted college lifestyle.

This year, 318 student athletes will represent Cal State Fullerton throughout 16 different sports. Club sports offered at CSUF include men's soccer, women's soccer, baseball and softball. Other sports include archery, ice hockey, women's lacrosse, men's rugby and esports. Equestrian and bowling were also added as club sports this semester.

The main difference between club sports and the NCAA teams on campus are that club sports are student-run organizations. They are handled by student club officers and participants, and are self-funded by fundraisers and membership dues. Like NCAA teams, club sports represent CSUF and compete with other universities' club teams throughout the academic year.

"It's a combination of the student leadership experience with competitive physical, social and emotional development," said Xianpan Xue, the Sports Club coordinator. "It's what I like to call the happy medium between on-campus intramurals and, obviously, the collegiate athletic team that competes on behalf of the university."

Students and teams have the responsibility of completing their games and practices, while also working in collaboration with other teams. Having the liberty to create their own academic, teams can compete in a league of their choice and schedule any courses they wish to complete against. Coaches, if a team chooses to hire one, are voted and hired by the team itself.

Team funding is assisted through the Sports Club Inter-Club Council, which is assigned a yearly budget for the program by Associated Students, Inc. Club sports may propose a certain amount of funding based on a team's initiative to conduct philanthropy events, throw fundraisers and show fan support for other teams.

"I would say our sports club presidents really handle a lot. It's a really great way to get team management experience for a lot of those skills employees are looking for such as communication, leadership, conflict management," Xue said.

Club sports such as ice hockey allow student athletes to compete for Cal State Fullerton.

Victoria Rodriguez, the chair of the council and member of the club softball team, said that her involvement with club sports has helped her find a niche on campus and experience personal development while at CSUF.

"I struggled my first year, but I think club softball helped me discover myself on campus and I grew along with the sports club. When I joined softball, it was a new team, about two years old and I grew along with it. I became a representative, became a president, and then I joined the board of the sports club inter-club council so I grew each year in keeping up with the softball sport's club," Rodriguez said.

Club sports also try not to take up too much time from students, allowing them to handle other responsibilities. Roller hockey, for example, only holds practice once on the weekend, and all games are played on the weekend.

Some clubs at CSUF have experienced great success such as the roller hockey club that competes in the Western Collegiate Roller Hockey League as part of the National Collegiate Roller Hockey Association. In the past six years, roller hockey has won three Division II national championships.

Ron Best, the president of the club roller hockey team, has been a member of the team for five years. As a player from two national championship teams, Best said that building a friendship with his teammates while winning was immensely satisfying.

"You build a really good sense of camaraderie throughout the whole season, and then to see all your hard work pay off in one moment, it's just really satisfying. It's just a really good way to make close friends that you definitely have past college. If you've played sports your whole life, it's a great way to continue doing that, even if it's not at an NCAA level," Best said.

I am interested in these positions: Elections Director
 (leave checked all that you are interested in; additional questions will appear/disappear based on selections) *

Tell us about yourself (tell us about your background, your past experiences, and what makes you a good candidate for the position; include any information that you think appropriate and important for us to know): *

I am currently pursuing my bachelor's degree in Business Administration with a concentration in Human Resources management. My passion for creating a positive work environment and promoting workplace efficiency is what drove me to my designated concentration. My anticipated graduation date is May of 2023.

My intern position in Diversity and Inclusion has given me the skillset and drive to make a significant change in the company as a whole. From holding conversations of understanding to implementing new initiatives to increase diversity across all pipelines, my intern role has exposed me to the realities of how a business maintains its employees and how it can appeal to those traditionally underrepresented. Additionally, it has shown the importance of employees to a company's success, which is vital to maintaining the edge in today's economy. I do a variety of presentations and documents aimed towards influencing people to understand Diversity and how they can leverage it to their advantage.

My leadership position as the President of the Society of Excellence in Human Resources organization on campus has exposed me to the power of networking. This year, a large portion of the Southern California Schools came together to create the Human Resources Management Association, which allows schools from all over the US to collaborate on HR matters ranging from recruitment in organizations to mock-interviews and everything in between.

On a personal note, I enjoy working in team-related environments as I believe more minds think better than one. I thrive in a proactive mindset, constantly looking for the next opportunity to improve myself or collaborate to create the next big initiative.

Pertaining to being the Elections Director, I believe I have the necessary skill set to communicate with my peers and organize the necessary events to make elections season a success. On the same note, I am extremely organized to ensure that everything is prepared in a timely manner and gets delivered with the best quality.

Tell us what you think the purpose of our ASI student government is and why you want to be a part of ASI leadership (tell us why you think ASI does what it does, what you hope to get out of the experience, and what you hope to learn): *

The purpose of our ASI government is to give students the opportunity to run the programs they participate in and enable them to experience government at the school level. ASI is a voice for all students on campus and is extremely important in terms of representation and changes to be made to campus. In addition, when there are issues that arise, it is helpful to have a student government to provide leadership in those situations.

I want to be a part of ASI Leadership because of the impact it makes on students. Elections are important, especially when it comes to who is going to represent you on large matters, like school events or funding. Being the Elections Director would allow me to help run the elections season smoothly and fairly for all students involved so that our campus gets the right representation they voted for.

1. In your own words, describe the purpose of the Elections Team.

- a. The purpose of the Elections Team is to organize, plan, and execute events related to elections season, like Meet the Candidates and Candidate orientation. They serve as the party responsible to ensure these events are successful.

2. Why is it important to promote participation in the elections process to CSUF students?

- a. CSUF students need to participate in the elections season due to the impact it will make on them in the coming year. From events to funding, ASI handles matters that directly influence the student body. It is important for students to feel represented and proud of who is making the decisions that affect them.

3. How you would direct, support, manage, and oversee the Elections team and program?

- a. I would oversee the Elections team in a collaborative, but accountable manner. From the beginning, I would enlist my coordinators to begin planning the events calendar with me and delegate the tasks to all three of us to ensure each event is a success. Teamwork makes the dream work and that is one of my mottos. Additionally, I would provide support to each of them if something were to get too much for them to handle.

4. Describe the ideas or goals you have for next year for the position.

- a. With the return back to campus, it is imperative for students to get involved and elections is one way they can voice their opinion. I would encourage students to utilize social media to get to know each campaign in depth as well as give them small videos of how some of their picks make an influence on campus. For example, a video on our programming team expressing what they've done throughout the year in their position and how its affected campus. In this way, when students go to vote, they will have a greater understanding of the importance of voting for these positions and enable them to be more willing to voice their thoughts.

5. Describe how you would promote the activities and events of the Elections Team. *

- a. Social media is one powerful tool that is very prominent on campus in terms of advertising. With informative posts and videos on Instagram about our activities, we would promote election events and other details needed for students to get out and vote. At the same time, word of mouth is very helpful so I would utilize my network within the colleges to help spread the word and get participation.

Board of Directors
Executive Officers Report

PRESIDENT: Joshua Mitchell

Summary:

Hello everyone! The past few weeks were a great learning experience as a lot of the committee meetings that I attended this week were a first for me. I wanted to complement DIRC for their execution of the open houses this past week and if you have yet to check one out, APARC and AARC are still hosting their own on Wednesday and Thursday respectively. There were also some laughs experienced this past week as Kira, Cassie, Alison, and I were able to film with President Virjee and his wife. Thanks to that, I now have Don't Stop Believing Stuck in my Head. All Day ASI and Convocation are coming up this Thursday and we could always use more volunteers for that day. Please reach out to either me or Kira if you want to sign up.

For some more fun updates, the annual CSUF Angel's game is coming up on the 19th. It is a Sunday day game with the first pitch at 1:07pm. Those that attend will get a free hat! Our CCO Jenna Wong proposed the fun idea of creating an ASI basketball team for the upcoming intramural season. Additionally, if you happen to play soccer or know of anyone that enjoys soccer, let me know as well. Let's have a great couple of weeks and the next time we meet, we will have already completed a quarter of the semester.

Events/Meetings Attended:

- DIRC Open Houses (TDRC, LCRC, Women's and Adult Re-entry Center)
- First Planning, Budget, Resource, Committee (PBRC) meeting
- Carpool Karaoke Convocation (Check out Kira, Cassie, Alison, and I on YT when it drops on the 16th at 12pm)
- SFAC (Student Fee Advisory Committee)
- Attended the Alumni House to look at Elephant Models for the statue being placed on campus

Projects:

- Painting the sidewalk for Pride Month in October
- ASI mobile app in the works
- Suicide Awareness Week (Sept. 5- Sept.11)
- Recommended Tiffany Cordon as the next Elections Director

GOALS FOR NEXT 2 WEEKS:

- Attend the rest of the DIRC open houses
- Attend Convocation on the 9th at Meng Hall from 11:30am-12:30pm

- CSUF Angels game on the 19th (it is a day game)
- Create an ASI basketball team
- Continue to get more comfortable with the role

VICE PRESIDENT: Kira Dawson

Summary:

These have been an awesome (and busy) first two weeks of the semester! To begin- a few COVID-related updates: According to the Titans Return website, there have been 25 reported cases on campus this past week and as of last week over 70% of students and over 80% of staff/faculty have uploaded vaccine records. If you have any questions or concerns about our ongoing re-entry journey, please reach out to me, Josh, or refer to the Titans Return website (<http://coronavirus.fullerton.edu>).

There have also been some questions regarding Financial Aid that I gained more info. about during our monthly meeting with President Virjee and VP Oseguera. In short, the Office of Financial Aid saw a substantial amount more turnover in staff than usual this summer and as a result is struggling to process Aid Awards at the normal pace we may be used to. The team is currently looking to fill vacancies that remain and are working diligently to serve students through this busy time in the semester. In-person and virtual Financial Aid appointments are available to students at this time, however we will not see the in-person FA office open like it has been in the past until these staffing issues are resolved. If you have any questions or concerns regarding FA or any other in-person student resources or services, please reach out to me or Josh.

Finally- we have All Day ASI this Thursday, 9/9, from 10am-10pm! It's going to be huge, and we can use all the hands we can get to help put this on! If you are interested in volunteering at the event, please reach out to me, Jacob Fry, or see the linktree All Day ASI volunteer forum in the ASI Instagram bio. Special thanks to our amazing Programming team for their hard work at our Job Fair and Discoverfest too!

Events/Meetings Attended:

CHIEF CAMPUS RELATIONS OFFICER: Cassandra Hallett

Summary:

Hi ASI family! I hope you all had a successful first two weeks of school. I love most of my classes so far (I hope you do too!) and I'm excited to have kicked off the first two weeks of school with many productive things for ASI. First, I attended most of the DIRC Open House Welcomes that happened last week to chat with Graduate Assistants and Coordinators there and start planning on how to build a stronger working relationship for this semester. So far, LCRC wants ASI to join them for the Dia De Los Muertos event happening in early November. I also participated in Convocation videos with President Virjee, Josh, Kira, and Alison (watch them once they're out on September 16th!) while also meeting most of the ESC coordinators in person for our first staff meeting to start executing our Sustainability Month plans. Third, I attended our first Academic Senate meeting to present ASI's goals for the year and also start the discussions on what Spring would look like for CSUF. Although there have been no concrete answers yet, I will work on getting those answers at our next couple of meetings so our students have enough time to prepare for the Spring semester.

I'm still working on appointing students to the high-profile committee meetings which are my priority to finish or at least be 95% finished by the end of this Friday. After the executive team meeting, I've come up with more outreach ideas (thanks to the exec team too) for the difficult-to-reach colleges to promote the opportunity to be a student representative on committees. I'm looking forward to attending more of the DIRC Open House Welcomes this week and to hear what the rest of you will be working on these next two weeks at our next Board meeting!

Events/Meetings Attended:

- ESC staff meeting
- Attended some of DIRC Open House Welcomes Includes TDRC, LCRC, LGBTQRC

- Executive team meeting to discuss students' concerns and what we can improve on from these last two weeks
- Met with Ariana Mora Mero from LCRC to discuss partnerships with the executive team for Dia De Los Muertos
- Met with Yessica De La Torre, Asha, and Josh to discuss student appointments for SFAC and
- SSIFAC (student fee committees)
- Attended PBRC Committee meeting to discuss Virjee's focus and the committee goals for the semester
- Attended Carpool Karaoke Convocation with Kira, Josh, and Alison
- Met with a student representative, Kristin, on the Alumni Committee to discuss what has been
- brought up so far and what is needed from me to prepare her for the upcoming two weeks
- Attended Academic Senate meeting to present ASI's goals for the year

Projects:

- Promoting SFAC and SSIFAC on social media, posts are approved from Mike (basecamp)
- Marketing committee applications and appointing students; we still need students from NSM and Engineering to sit on the IRA committee, as well as seven students for the student fee committees.
- Continue building relationships and trust throughout campus by participating in tabling events and setting up appointments to meet and introduce each other; collaborating with all of our communities.
- Sustainability Month events; ESC is in the process of checking out every logistics to-do list and
- I will be booking the places for activities this week
- Collaborate with LCRC for Dia De Los Muertos
- Brainstorming with PAC coordinator Presley on a quicker way to let students know about committee opportunities and how to best prepare/update with them.

Goals for next week:

- Work with CCO to market the general university-wide committee meetings
- Have students appointed to the high-profile committees by Friday
- Make a video recap of what was discussed in the end-of-August committee meetings.
- Prepare for the first ESC meeting on September 22nd.
- Search and promote UA application for a coordinator.
- Attend Executive Senate/ICC meetings to promote committee representative opportunities and introduce myself to start building our relationships for the year and onwards.

Summary:

Hi everyone! I hope the first two weeks of school went well for everyone. I've been connecting with students and student leaders since my last report to make headway on some advocacy. I was able to attend the Latinx Community Resource Center open house welcome last week (it was the perfect way to spend my birthday!) and I had so much fun meeting the LCRC staff and hearing about their plans for the year. There are 3 more open houses happening this week, WARC, APARC, and AARC are happening this week. Make some time to visit their spaces and learn about their work and what work is going to be done this year.

There is a Cal State Student Association (CSSA) plenary this weekend on Saturday. Here is the agenda for all the committees that are meeting and the items we're going over. Some important items we'll be going over is the CSSA Policy Agenda and possible Spring 2022 plenaries for Board of Directors, and for Systemwide Affairs there will be a discussion regarding the transition and repopulation of students this semester. I recommend everyone to attend the committees they're able to, if you aren't able to reach out to me if you have a perspective you want me to include in any discussion I provide.

The CSU Board of Trustees are meeting next week on September 14th-15th. At the time of me writing this there is not an agenda released, but when it is it will be released here. All of the meetings that are open are recorded and uploaded under the date the meetings took place. If you have any further questions don't hesitate to reach out to me through Groupme or email at asicgo@fullerton.edu Here's to a great week 3! Tusks up!

BOARD LEADERSHIP REPORT

September 7, 2021

Morgan Diaz, Board Secretary:

I hope everyone is having a great start to their week with this past Monday off! I just have a few things to report on!

1. If you are free and capable of doing so, please sign up to volunteer for All Day ASI this Thursday 9/9/2021 for a time slot as my good friend Jacob Fry needs some volunteers for this big wonderful event he and the team have put together! There are designated time slots for the entire day and volunteers are needed more towards the afternoon and evening hours. I was told it's going to be set up similarly as a music festival and that headsets and mics would be received. If you have any questions please talk to Jacob Fry on the All ASI 2021-2022 Group Me.

2. It was wonderful chairing the first meeting for the Facilities Committee and I am so grateful to have such an amazing team to work with this year. Please keep in mind also, that the Programs Committee's 1st meeting will be on 9/16/2021. If you are unaware if you sit on this committee, please feel free to let me know after our meeting.

3. I mentioned this at the Facilities Committee Meeting but as we progress as a Board together, please feel free to rely on me as your Secretary, Arts Board of Director, or a friend as I not only want to help cultivate a thriving environment professionally but to also be there as a friend in need whenever you might need it.

Thank you!
