7. Time Certain

A. 1:30 PM Dr. Khalilah Doss, VP for Student Affairs and Strategic Enrollment Management

Chair Morales yielded to Dr. Khalilah Doss, Vice President of Student Affairs and Strategic Enrollment Management.

VP Doss provided an update on the Division of Student Affairs and Strategic Enrollment Management (SAASEM), explaining the addition of enrollment management to her portfolio and the renaming/rebranding of the division to reflect coordinated strategy. She emphasized a shared vision grounded in radical hospitality, student-centeredness, civility, respect, and a “one band, one sound” approach aligned with CSU system goals. She highlighted early wins, including faster financial aid disbursement, streamlined scholarship processing, expanded Titan Hub services, extended office hours, improved admissions flexibility (alternate majors), new housing capacity to address housing insecurity, increased outreach and recruitment (including WUE), expanded basic needs and wellness support, and growth in special population programs. She closed by emphasizing relationship-building, listening, cross-campus partnerships, and ongoing progress in the division.

Chair Morales opened the floor to questions.

- Ahmad asked for clarification regarding partnerships with local community colleges. VP Doss explained that the partnerships supported seamless transfer pathways to CSUF, citing the Santa Ana College Promise Program and ongoing collaboration with Fullerton College to strengthen community engagement.
- Suzer asked whether expanded class partnerships might affect existing policies for course retakes or access to high-demand classes, particularly in STEM. VP Doss responded that no policy changes were anticipated and advised submitting the question by email for further clarification from the Provost, noting ongoing efforts to open additional class sections as needed.
- Montano asked about advising capacity and resources given increased enrollment through alternate majors.

VP Doss explained that incoming students would be advised through a blocked system prior to arrival and indicated that current advising structures would not be negatively impacted, offering to follow up separately.

- Valdez asked if new housing includes meal plans as well.
VP Doss stated that 500 affordable beds would be distributed across multiple residence halls, with meal plan requirements dependent on housing type, and that eligibility would be determined in coordination with Financial Aid to prioritize students with housing insecurity.
- Ryals shared concerns about the timing and uncertainty of financial aid and scholarship disbursements and noted the positive impact of recent improvements on housing stability.
VP Doss acknowledged these challenges and explained that efforts were underway to improve communication, rebranding, and transparency around financial aid, including streamlined dissemination, sharing the scope of aid distributed, and developing an accurate, multilingual net price calculator on the university website.
- Romero asked for clarification on increased outreach and family engagement efforts.
VP Doss explained that recruitment and orientation activities had been streamlined to better accommodate family participation, with intentional programming to engage families during events, and noted expanded outreach through additional recruitment fairs to increase awareness of the university.
- Syed raised concerns about improving outreach and data accuracy for South Asian, Indigenous, and SWANA student populations and asked about the impact of alternate majors on high-impact and low-enrolled programs.
VP Doss explained that alternate majors were intended to support access to lower-enrolled programs while providing additional pathways for students in impacted majors, and noted plans to highlight these options during recruitment and advising. VP Doss also addressed questions about advising and resource planning, outlining ongoing coordination, upcoming follow-ups, and recent and planned staffing hires within the division.
- Jain asked about efforts to improve student retention amid enrollment growth.
VP Doss responded that retention was a priority and described multiple strategies under review, including financial aid optimization, ensuring course availability for timely graduation, and using DFW rate data to identify courses needing additional academic support for students and faculty.

Dr. Edwards provided the quarterly update on the ASI organization, highlighting progress on the strategic plan's four pillars: fostering student growth and well-being, enriching student and staff experiences, innovating facilities, programs, and services, and enhancing partnerships and outreach. Key highlights included ASI's 50th anniversary celebration, recognized by Orange County District Supervisor Doug Chafee, which featured a tribute band, campus events, and a gaming exhibit tracing video games since 1976. Dr. Edwards presented this certificate to ASI President Haneefah Syed and ASI Vice President Juan Salguero.

Board of Directors
Board Leadership Report

CHAIR: Joe Morales

Summary:

Hi everyone,

With elections coming up, I just want to remind you all to stay as impartial and professional as possible during this time. At the same time, this also means our time in these roles is starting to come to an end, so really make the most of the time we have left. If you have any projects, ideas, or goals you've been working on, now is the time to lock in and finish strong so we can leave things better than we found them.

Also, this week we have our trip up to CSU Northridge. Please be attentive and intentional while we're there. This isn't just a visit, it's a huge privilege and an opportunity to learn from a campus that has already built out programs and systems we've talked about wanting to create here. Take notes, ask questions, and walk away with real ideas and takeaways that we can bring back and actually implement at our own campus.

As always, reach out if you need anything. Let's finish the semester strong together!

VICE CHAIR: Mahak Ahmad

Summary:

Hello everyone, and Happy Tuesday!

Hope your spring semester is off to a great start! I wanted to give a huge shoutout and thank you to everyone who took the time out of their busy schedules to table at Discoverfest and the ASI 50th Anniversary Event. It was great seeing you all engaged and actively spreading the word about ASI. We saw a lot of excitement and strong student engagement at both events, which was exciting to see!

Following our Board Leadership meeting last week, the application for the College of Engineering and Computer Science Board of Directors vacancy is now live on the ASI website. Please help spread the word by notifying your peers within this college about this opportunity. Thank you all for your support!

Also, as a reminder, our second Governance Committee meeting of the semester will be held on Thursday, February 5th in the ASI Boardroom, where the committee will consider a resolution to approve the Policy Concerning ASI Elections.

Have a great rest of your week, everyone!
