A. Action: Resolution Approving a A-Side Line-Item Transfer for the ECS Inter-Club Council (ECSICC) (Quock)

The Committee will consider a resolution approving a line-item transfer of $2,000 from Supplies ($1,000) and Hospitality ($1,000) to the Student Travel line item.

FIN 021 25/26 (Lopez-m/Ryals-s) A motion was made and seconded to approve ECS Inter-Club Council (ECSICC) A-Side Line-Item Transfer.

Chair Quock yielded to Rebecca Hesgard, ASI Director of Student Government.

Hesgard explained that the resolution concerned line item transfers, which are allowed in the spring to give ICCs flexibility to reallocate budgets based on evolving needs. She noted that larger transfers, particularly those involving travel funds, require Finance Committee approval, and described the Engineering Computer Science request to shift funds into travel to support student participation in conferences and competitions.

Chair Quock opened the floor to questions.

The Committee moved to a roll call vote.

Motion:

Motion moved by Joshua Lopez and motion seconded by Liam Ryals.

- B. Action: Resolution Approving a B-Side Line-Item Transfer for the Sports Clubs Inter-Club Council (SCICC) (Quock)

The Committee will consider a resolution approving a B-Side line-item transfer of $5,000 from Dues and Subscriptions to the Travel line item.

FIN 022 25/26 (Lopez-m/Ryals-s) A motion was made and seconded to approve Sports Clubs Inter-Club Council (SCICC) B-Side Line-Item Transfer.

Chair Quock yielded to Rebecca Hesgard, ASI Director of Student Government.

Hesgard explained that the item involved a $5,000 transfer from dues and subscriptions to travel for sports clubs, noting that such requests require Finance Committee approval when exceeding $1,000. She clarified that reduced spending on dues created the opportunity to reallocate funds, while increased travel needs especially for national competitions drove the request

Chair Quock opened the floor to questions.

- Ryals asked why dues and subscription funds were not being used as projected compared to previous years.

Hesgard responded that budgets are based on projections and may vary depending on factors like teams qualifying for higher-level competitions, and she invited the sports club coordinator to provide more detail. Sports coordinator Christopher Estrella-Ramirez explained that costs fluctuate due to varying league fees, qualification for regional or national competitions, and occasional timing or transition issues that can affect how and when dues are paid.

Chair Quock opened the floor to discussion.

There were no points of discussion.

The Committee moved to a roll call vote.

Motion:

FIN 022 25/26 Roll Call Vote: 5-0-0. The motion to approve Sports Clubs Inter-Club Council (SCICC) B-Side Line-Item Transfer was adopted.

Motion moved by Joshua Lopez and motion seconded by Liam Ryals.

- C. Action: Resolution Approving a Contingency Request for $8,300 for the ICC Carnival (HHDICC) (Quock)

The Committee will consider a resolution approving a contingency request for $8,300 to support the ICC Carnival event.

FIN 023 25/26 (Lopez-m/Komiya-s) A motion was made and seconded to approve a Contingency Request for $8,300 for the ICC Carnival (HHDICC).

Chair Quock yielded to Rebecca Hesgard, ASI Director of Student Government.

Hesgard introduced a contingency funding request, noting that this year's requests had often been smaller or for individual travel, while this one was more typical in size. She reported that about $40,000 remained in the contingency budget with limited meetings left to allocate funds, and then invited presenters to discuss the new Titan County Fair proposal. Hesgard invited representatives from HHD ICC to review their request.

Representatives from the HHD ICC, Aaron Vaquero and Izaiah Almaguer, presented the Titan County Fair, a rebranded ICC Carnival scheduled for April 29, 2026, aimed at fostering campus engagement through activities, entertainment, and collaboration across all 19 ICCs. They described extensive planning efforts, campus-wide promotion, and an expected attendance of 400–500 students, along with contributions from multiple ICCs and campus partners. They requested contingency funding to cover event rentals and food truck vouchers, explaining that the support would help establish the fair as a sustainable annual event and increase future participation and investment.

Chair Quock opened the floor to questions.

- Salguero asked for clarification on the total projected cost and whether it would be similar in future years if the event became annual.
The presenters confirmed the total was around $19,000 and explained that future costs would vary depending on planning decisions and attendance, but would likely range between $10,000 and $20,000.
- Komiya asked about the motivation behind the Titan County Fair and whether it aimed to foster collaboration, increase funding, or promote ICCs.
The presenters explained that the event was created to unite all ICCs in a sustained, campus-wide collaboration, addressing the entire student body. They emphasized that planning for the fair had already strengthened partnerships between ICCs and provided consistent leadership opportunities throughout the year, with the goal of enabling larger-scale events in the future.
- Mendoza asked for clarification on the breakdown of the $3,500 request compared to the $3,095 package cost.
The presenters explained that the base fee was $175, with additional service fees, including generators for certain machines and a popcorn machine, included in the total $3,500 to cover all rental needs.
- Chair Quock asked how students would be incentivized to attend and about the event location.
The presenters confirmed it would be held on Tuffy Lawn and explained that attendance would be encouraged through free food vouchers, games, and activities designed to foster community, belonging, and a fun, stress-free experience before finals.

Chair Quock opened the floor to discussion.

- Salguero praised the planning and effort behind the Titan County Fair, noting it was a well-organized initiative by the ICCs. He cautioned that if the event becomes annual, contingency funding might not be available in future years since it would no longer be considered a new idea, and encouraged exploring alternative funding options, while affirming the event's value in fostering collaboration and community on campus.

The Committee moved to a roll call vote.

Motion:

FIN 023 25/26 Roll Call Vote: 5-0-0. The motion to approve a Contingency Request for $8,300 for the ICC Carnival (HHDICC) was adopted.

Motion moved by Joshua Lopez and motion seconded by Sarah Komiya.

D. Action: Resolution Approving a Contingency Request for $750 for Travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention (Quock)

The Committee will consider a resolution approving a contingency request for $750 for travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention.

FIN 024 25/26 (Ryals-m/Lopez-s) A motion was made and seconded to approve a Contingency Request for $750 for student travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention for B Saenz.

Chair Quock yielded to Rebecca Hesgard, ASI Director of Student Government.

Hesgard stated that the request followed typical past patterns, where large amounts were reviewed for eligibility as new or supplemental needs. She noted that some items may return later as contingency if they were not included in the approved budget. Hesgard invited student Brianna Saenz to review her request.

Saenz introduced herself as a fourth-year psychology student planning to pursue a master's degree and requested $750 to attend and present research at the Western Psychological Association conference in Tacoma. She explained her involvement in a research lab studying perceptual psychology and described their correlational study, which found a significant relationship between hair images and facial attractiveness ratings, but not with estrogen levels. She highlighted the importance of both significant and non-significant findings and noted that changes in research design, such as using color images, influenced results. She emphasized that presenting at the conference would provide valuable professional experience beyond classroom settings. She also outlined the estimated travel, registration, lodging, and meal costs totaling about $717, and concluded by stressing that contingency funding is important for enabling students to access such academic opportunities.

Chair Quock opened the floor to questions.

- Chair Quock asked how the student would spend time at the conference outside of presenting.

Saenz explained that on non-presentation days, they would attend as audience members, observing other presentations, asking questions, and learning from other researchers, while their own presentation would take place on their assigned day.

Chair Quock opened the floor to discussion.

There were no points of discussion.

The committee moved to a roll call vote.

Motion:

FIN 024 25/26 Roll Call Vote: 5-0-0. The motion to approve a Contingency Request for $750 for student travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention for B Saenz was adopted.

Motion moved by Liam Ryals and motion seconded by Joshua Lopez.

E. Action: Resolution Approving a Contingency Request for $750 for Travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention (Quock)

The Committee will consider a resolution approving a contingency request for $750 for travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention.

FIN 025 25/26 (Lopez-m/Mendoza-s) A motion was made and seconded to approve a Contingency Request for $750 for student travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention for I. Bhardwaj.

Chair Quock yielded to Rebecca Hesgard, ASI Director of Student Government.

Hesgard briefly introduced the request, noting it was a similar conference request for a different student, and invited the student to present their contingency funding request and planned activities.

Ansh presented on behalf of requesting student Bhardwaj, explaining that she was unable to attend due to work commitments during her internship as a behavior therapist. He described her as an undergraduate psychology student and researcher whose study on hair health, attractiveness, and estradiol levels had been accepted for a poster presentation at the Western Psychological Association conference in Tacoma. He explained that attending the conference would allow her to present her research, receive feedback, network with professionals, and gain experience in preparation for graduate school. He also outlined her estimated expenses of about $1,310, noted that she had received a $200 travel grant but was denied departmental funding, and stated that she was requesting $750 in contingency funding.

Chair Quock opened the floor to questions.

There were no questions.

Chair Quock opened the floor to discussion.

- Salguero expressed admiration for Bhardwaj's dedication, noting that despite her inability to attend, she ensured her request was presented through a representative rather than giving up.
- Chair Quock agreed and commended Ansh for effectively presenting on her behalf.

The committee moved to a roll call vote.

Motion:

FIN 025 25/26 Roll Call Vote: 5-0-0. The motion to approve a Contingency Request for $750 for student travel to the Western Psychological Association Convention for I. Bhardwaj was adopted.

Motion moved by Joshua Lopez and motion seconded by Cesar Mendoza.

F. Action: Resolution Approving a Line-Item Transfer for the National Pan-Hellenic Council Inter-Club Council (NPHCICC) (Quock)

The Committee will consider a resolution approving a line-item transfer of $1,000 from the Travel line item ($800 and $200) to the Hospitality and Printing & Advertising line items.

FIN 026 25/26 (Mendoza-m/Lopez-s) A motion was made and seconded to approve National Pan-Hellenic Council Inter-Club Council (NPHCICC) Line-Item Transfer.

Chair Quock yielded to Rebecca Hesgard, ASI Director of Student Government.

Hesgard clarified that the agenda returned to a line item transfer due to the order in which requests were received. She explained that the National Panhellenic Council requested to reallocate $1,000 from their travel budget to hospitality and advertising, noting this type of adjustment is common when organizations shift funds toward on-campus events. She added that the council typically uses such funding to support community-building activities like showcases involving other chapters.

Chair Quock opened the floor to questions.

There were no questions.

ASI Contingency Funding Request 2025-2026

Cost breakdown by Brianna Saenz

Funding Request- Who

- Who: Good afternoon, my name is Brianna Saenz. I am a first generation psychology undergraduate here at CSUF. I am a fourth year, set to graduate in Spring 2026. Post undergrad, I would like to pursue a Master's degree in either clinical or school psychology.
- Research Lab: I am a research assistant in Dr. Peissig's Vision lab where my colleagues and I conduct perceptual psychology research. Our current study examines the relationship between photographs of hair, ratings of attractiveness, and estrogen levels in female subjects.

Funding Request- What, Where, & When

- What: I would be honored to attend the Western Psychological Association 2026 Annual Convention (WPA) to present a poster presentation of our findings regarding our perceptual study of hair images, attractiveness ratings, and estrogen levels in female subjects. I would be presenting with Dr. Peissig, Jazmari D., Ishika B., Aryam A., and Erika V.
- Where: WPA 2026 Annual Convention in Tacoma, Washington.
- When: April 30th-May 3rd. We will be presenting May 2nd during the convention.

Funding Request- Why

- ▶ Why: After collecting data, we conducted a correlational analysis between the hair images, attractiveness ratings, and estrogen levels. We found that the correlation between the hair images and attractiveness ratings of the same female subject were statistically significant ($r=.27, p<.05$), while the correlation between hair image ratings and estrogen levels were not ($r=.16, p>.05$).
- ▶ This is particularly interesting because the initial design of this study used greyscale images of hair and found no statistical significance between attraction ratings or estrogen levels. However, now that we used color images of hair, we did find a statistically significant correlation between hair and attraction, which suggests that perceiving the images in color does have a statistically significant main effect in visual perception of female attractiveness.
- ▶ It is important to share research findings, whether statistically significant or not, to increase the knowledge pool of perceptual psychology. Some may find null research unimportant or uninteresting, but it provides us equally vital information of what did not work, and perhaps, why it did not work.
- ▶ This opportunity will also give me hands-on experience of presenting research in professional settings, rather than academic. I can practice delivering important statistics and discussing its implementations in a conference that is geared toward undergrads. This opportunity will greatly further my skills and career.

Cost breakdown

- I am requesting $750 to bring this enriching opportunity to fruition.
- WPA registration fee: $95
- A round trip from Los Angeles → Tacoma: $187
- Baggage fees round trip: $$50 \times 2 = \100
- Uber fees: $100-130
- Hotel expenses: approximately $175 a night, excluding additional fees.
- Dining: $30
- Total: $$95 + $187 + $100 + $130 + $175 + $30 = $717.00$
