What is Titan Recreation Team Building?
Our Team Building sessions are a series of upbeat and engaging activities designed to enable your group to think and work together to accomplish a goal. The sessions are hosted by trained facilitators, that will not only present exciting challenges and games, but will provide debriefings to help your team relate and transfer each lesson to the work environment.

What skills will my team learn with Titan Outdoors?
Most of our team building sessions revolve around communication, problem solving, decision making, goal setting, and positive leadership in the workplace. Our facilitators will help your team identify what skills they used during the activities, refine those skills, and help them navigate a path which leads them to using what they have learned in their workplace.

Are there any prerequisites for my team to participate?
No prerequisite knowledge or ability is required of your group to participate. Our team building initiatives are adaptive to a vast array of participants. We encourage all our teams to practice “challenge by choice,” and participate as much as they can. If you have any concerns, be sure to let us know when you book your event, and we can mold our presentation to your group’s specific needs.

What is Virtual Team Building like?
We understand that the realities of working during COVID-19 can be challenging, and over the past year, we have developed a virtual program that can be administered via Zoom to engage your team even when we cannot all be together in person. All the same team building principles and interactions apply. We’re just participating within a big video conference call from the comfort of our personal virtual workspaces.

Will my team be able to maintain physical distancing if we do in person team building?
Of course! As we work our way towards a new normal it is important to continue to practice the healthy skills that got us to this point. If you elect to do in-person team building, we will ensure that everyone adheres to current CDC standards and guidelines regarding COVID-19 and the safety of all participants.
